PNA seeks to form a strong alliance with concerned agencies to design initiatives that will ultimately address these concerns. Such is a manifestation of PNA's commitment in caring for the nurses of today that will be significant in safeguarding the future – one that has a strong and united nursing profession that will be responsible in promoting health, preventing, and managing disease, and in rehabilitating. In the celebration of PNA's 8th Summer Conference, the International Council of Nurses' (ICN), "Our Nurses. Our Future.
